App Selection Criteria
from the APPitic App Lists for Education Website

Understanding: Apps that fit into this "understanding" stage provide opportunities for students to explain ideas or concepts. Understanding apps step away from the selection of a "right" answer and introduce a more open-ended format for students to summarize content and translate meaning.

Understanding Criteria
Remembering: Apps that fit into the "remembering" stage improve the user's ability to define terms, identify facts, and recall and locate information. Many educational apps fall into the "remembering" phase of learning. They ask users to select an answer out of a line-up, find matches, and sequence content or input answers.

Remembering Criteria
Applying: Apps that fit into the "applying" stage provide opportunities for students to demonstrate their ability to implement learned procedures and methods. They also highlight the ability to apply concepts in unfamiliar circumstances.

Applying Criteria
Analyzing: Apps that fit into the "analyzing" stage improve the user's ability to differentiate between the relevant and irrelevant, determine relationships, and recognize the organization of content.

Analyzing Criteria
Evaluating: Apps that fit into the "evaluating" stage improve the user's ability to judge material or methods based on criteria set by themselves or external sources. They help students judge content reliability, accuracy, quality, effectiveness, and reach informed decisions.

Evaluating Criteria
Creating: Apps that fit into the "creating" stage provide opportunities for students to generate ideas, design plans, and produce products.

How to use the Padagogy Wheel: It's All About Grey-matter Grids

A methodology to get the best results with this teaching model

APPitic
APP tools for education

http://appitic.com

is a comprehensive online directory of apps for education, developed by Apple Distinguished Educators (ADEs) and is available in 19 languages. The website identifies 400 apps by the Blooms Cognitive Domain Categories with 122 of the most popular apps individually linked from the Padagogy Wheel.

Developed by Allan Cameron

Standing on the Shoulders of Giants
This Taxonomy wheel, without the apps, was first discovered on the website of Paul Hook's educational consultancy website: www保罗.org.uk
That wheel was produced by Simon Arney and was an adaptation of Kollwitz and Andersons' 2001 adaptation of Bloom's (1956). The idea to further adapt it for the padagogy possibilities with mobile devices, in particular the iPad. For V2.0 on V3.0 I have to acknowledge the creative work of Kathy Scannell on her website Bloom's Apps. For the major revision V4.0 I have to thank the team of ADEs who created APPtic the App Lists for Education Website.

Organization and Distribution

1. Have a site to store electronic media and links which is under your control. 2. Learn how to use the tools that are offered at your school. 3. Have one place that students can access for your class.
What I use:

Google classroom as my daily info and go to links for my students. TES (Blendspace) has all my media and I can give lessons via TES or via Nearpod. TES is free, Nearpod silver is free, gold you have to pay for it. Airdrop but not always efficient. Schools with Apple TV can mirror on a screen or smart board. Adapters are available to hook an iPad to a pc or smart board device.
Nearpod silver is free and allows lessons like this and feedback from students. www.nearpod.com
TES or Blendspace allows lessons to be put together and some feed back from students.

Flash player issues

Puffin Academy can help with flash player problems. Flashplayer is slowly being phased out but Always-on PC app can open flash player. It is a pay app.

Puffin Academy is also a great source for WL resources.
You Doodle, Adobe Acrobat, Adobe Fill and sign can open a PDF. Fill and sign can help students type answers onto the Pdf. Also true in You Doodle.
